WeCan.Fund

ROCKSTAR NEEDED !

Blockchain project coordinator
Permanent

The Company

Founded in 2015 in Geneva, WeCan.Fund is a fintech company offering crowdfunding and blockchain solutions. The team focuses on assisting private firms as well as public structures that need to stand out by integrating innovative technological solutions. We contribute to this adoption by our involvement in academia, by participating in internationally organized events, and creating associations of like minded professionals. We think of digitalization as an opportunity and strive towards promoting technology in a way that it would participate in a new kind of economy, one that would be more collaborative and more sustainable.

To achieve this goal, WeCan.Fund focuses on two main activities; the inhouse developed crowdfunding solution allows any organization be it private or public, to create its own taylored crowdfunding platform, our blockchain activity is based on identifying, selecting and developing a blockchain solution suited to all entities that consider blockchain as an opportunity.

The mission

Within a team of young, ambitious, and energetic talents you will be in charge of coordinating blockchain development projects. You will be in close relationship with the business development department that mainly focuses on acquiring and developing clients, your role will be to coordinate various stakeholders that participate in the development of blockchain solutions : technical, design, research. You will also be in charge of producing required client material, this includes the final deliverable as well as the intermediary ones. You will integrate a team where results is a keyword and where performance leads to esteem. Our ambition is nourished by a strong team spirit. This should not be an illustration. In an everyday work life, this translates in simple, constructed and well executed actions.

Your profile

We are looking for a rockstar ! You are graduated from one of the best Swiss or International engineering schools (Master degree), possibly from a business school as well and achieved outstanding academic performance. You demonstrate an expertise in blockchain and master the technology itself as well as its different applications. You have a solid first experience either in strategic advisory, IT advisory, investment banking, project management or in startups. You know how to prioritize tasks and are able to handle high workloads. You are fluent in French and English. You are autonomous and demonstrate an entrepreneurial spirit.

You will have to get friendly with the idea of jumping off a cliff and building a plane while falling.
